Comments of Bruce Payne KD7MHP

This Amendment makes very good sense to me. I have taken and passed the element 3 test twice to obtain a general license. I have not been granted the general license, which I will need for long distance transmissions from my boat during my upcoming world voyage, because I have not been able to pass the morse code test. I need to be able to communicate with other boats, and transmit to e-mail receiver stations. Your consideration in eliminating this requirement would be appreciated!
